GOOD NEWS! – Court Grants Injunction Preventing Milwaukee’s Sick Leave Ordinance from Taking Effect

This morning, Judge Cooper granted the request of the Metropolitan Milwaukee Association of Commerce’s for an injunction blocking the Milwaukee Sick Leave Ordinance from becoming effecting on Tuesday, February 10, 2009.

The Judge stated that granting the injunction “was not a hard decision.” He did not, however, tip his hand on how he will ultimately rule in the case. He did give an educated assumption that the case will likely make its way through the legal system to the Wisconsin Supreme Court.

This development is good news for employers who are located within the City of Milwaukee or for those employers who have employees working within the City of Milwaukee.

At this point we do not know what the Judge’s time frame will be for ultimate resolution of the case. We will continue to provide timely updates as new developments occur. Please check our website periodically for additional updates and developments in the employment-law area: www.tsqllaw.com .
